

ATLANTA WILL ELECT NEW CITY OFFICERS TODAY AND WILL DECIDE FATE OF PROPOSED TAX RAISE

TAX RESTORATION PLEAS ARE MADE BY SCHOOL HEADS

Final Statements On Condition of the System and Need of Funds Given by Gaines and Sutton.

TEN MEETINGS HELD AT SCHOOL CENTERS

The Speakers Show That Higher Tax Is Absolutely Necessary—Election Officials Are Ready.

Atlanta's tax restoration campaign came to a whirlwind finish Tuesday night with rallies in every section of the city, and the issuance of statements by Superintendent of Schools W. A. Sutton and W. W. Gaines, president of the board of education, making their final appeal to the voters to support the proposed increase.

Meetings were held Tuesday at ten centers around which rallied hundreds of citizens attended them and the speakers, who fought through the campaign, came away more than ever convinced by the attendance and interest that the tax restoration will go over by a substantial majority. A majority is all that is necessary to win.

The tax election, while it will be held at the same polling precincts as the primary, will be a separate election and will have its own managers, clerks, ballot boxes and ballots. It is important that when a person votes for the municipal candidates that he or she then cast a vote for the tax raise.

There were 27,854 citizens registered and qualified to vote in the tax election. This number includes 5,718 negroes.

Appeal by Sutton.

Mr. Sutton made his final appeal to the fathers and mothers of Atlanta. "As I view the situation, we face tomorrow the most critical hour in the history of the Atlanta schools," he said. "An announcement on schedule time would not only hurt every interest of this city, but would be a calamity unspeakable to the children of this city." His appeal follows:

"To the Fathers and Mothers of Atlanta: I wish to make a final appeal to you in behalf of the schools. The statements which I have given out from time to time have not been for any political reason, nor have I made these statements to boost any one in Atlanta except the city as a whole, and the children in particular. We face tomorrow the most critical hour in the history of the Atlanta schools. An announcement that the schools cannot open on schedule time, would not only hurt every interest of this city, but would be a calamity unspeakable to the children of Atlanta. I have given the facts as I have seen them in the public press, and have endeavored to speak on this subject from four to six times a day. In addition, I have tried to send a letter to the parents and the children, and to them to the seriousness of the situation.

"I sincerely trust that you will give us an opportunity to keep our school organization and to open the schools on schedule time. Personally, I shall do my best to run the schools of Atlanta in the interests of the entire population. We wish to educate the children, and we desire also to make our schools function into the life of our city in its every department, socially, intellectually and morally. In other words, we desire to make the schools what they should be in building up the city.

"The responsibility is now up to the voter. I have been sorry that more of our business and civic organizations have not taken more active interest in this question. I understand somewhat the term and disorganized condition of business and social organizations during the summer. I trust that the individual members of these organizations will not only vote for the tax restoration, but will work and influence others to do the same, knowing that even a few votes may deny the children of Atlanta an opportunity to attend school.

"The responsibility is yours. I believe we have done our duty. I should regret exceedingly to be forced to announce that the schools cannot open, but if it is the wish and desire of the Atlanta people, I shall do my best to continue the

U. S. Ultimatum Sent to Armed Miners

INSURRECTIONISTS TOLD TO DISPERSE BY THURSDAY NOON

President's Proclamation Threatens Use of Federal Forces If the Armed Strikers Do Not Disband.

TWO U. S. REGIMENTS HELD IN READINESS

Washington Officials Answer Frantic Appeals of Governor, But Criticize His Failure to Act.

BY ROBERT J. BENDER, United News Staff Correspondent. Washington, August 30.—The federal government is now moving rapidly to protect the state of West Virginia against violence.

President Harding has issued a proclamation giving those engaged in unlawful proceedings in the state until noon Thursday to return peacefully to their homes.

Brigadier General Bandholtz has been ordered to keep one of the four regiments of infantry at that camp in readiness for immediate enforcement in event they are ordered into the "war area" of West Virginia.

Another regiment, at Camp Sherman, Ohio, has been ordered to be placed in readiness for field service. Each of these regiments will number about 1,000 men.

To Aid State Forces.

Colonel F. B. Shaw has been dispatched from the war department to Charleston, W. Va., as inspector and instructor for organized state militia forces.

If order is not restored by noon Thursday, federal troops will be sent into West Virginia to co-ordinate with the state troops whereby the trouble movements into the state will be accomplished within three or four hours.

This is the first time during the administration of President Harding that there has been a grave prospect of federal forces being called into action in a labor dispute.

It may be stated, the contemplated action is extremely distasteful to the president. No efforts are being made to conceal the belief of officials that Governor Morgan, of West Virginia, has not taken advantage of his own powers adequately to exercise his own responsibilities in heading off the trouble in its inception or checking it after it had started.

Telegrams, long distance telephone calls and even delegations of prominent West Virginians have been sent to the president in rapid succession during the last forty-eight hours as Morgan brought all his influence to bear upon the government to come to his aid.

Cautious Comment.

Cautious comment was heard on the fact that despite his authorization some months ago to organize a national guard force, the governor until within the last few days had mobilized only an adjutant general and later one company of infantry. Now, of course, he is rapidly increasing this force and to aid him Colonel Shaw is en route to Charleston.

But the president and war department officials are still hopeful that federal force will not have to be exercised. Similar situations have produced like proclamations in the past, notably the Colorado miners' uprising seven years ago. On some of these occasions it was found unnecessary to send federal troops into the troubled areas because the government warning was heeded. When they have gone in, they have gone in to co-operate with state forces and the instances of federal martial law are few in this country.

If troops go into West Virginia they will be under command of General Bandholtz, who got his original training in dealing with insurrection, while serving in the Philippines.

Governor Alarmed.

Governor Morgan in frequent long distance calls to the war department throughout Tuesday, reflected growing alarm at the outlook. Greater crowds were coming to the state capital, he said, and the state government was unable to cope with the situation. After two conferences among President Harding, General Harford and Secretary Weeks and a thorough meeting of the cabinet at the White House, the president's proclamation was decided as the step to be taken in the emergency.

The president, declaring in his proclamation that Morgan had admitted his inability to suppress the existing violence, that the United States constitution made it incumbent upon the government to protect the state, that the governor had appealed for aid, and that, preliminary to the use of federal force,

Three Per Diem Correct Kissing Diet for Wives

So States Psychoanalyst, Who Says Happiness and Weight Depend on Osculation.

Chicago, August 30.—Kiss your wife three times a day. That's just enough, so say the experts.

Three kisses a day will maintain happiness in the home and the proper amount of avoirdupois on the wife!

More than three every twenty-four hours is too much, experts say, citing the case of Mrs. Lillian M. Cummings, wife of a six-foot 190-pound policeman, who wants a divorce because of the osculatory activities of her husband. Her weight fell off from 145 pounds to 101 pounds.

Dr. Harold N. Moyer, psychoanalyst, said it was hard to determine how many kisses are too many—depends upon temperament.

"But three a day is just about right," he added. "Once in the morning, once before dinner and once at bedtime."

Osculatory neglect has a bad effect upon any wife, Dr. Moyer said, but too much kissing is even worse, striking the subconscious mind and having a disastrous effect on the health.

Housewives are divided upon the question. Mrs. Lols Anderson said there is no such thing as too many kisses for a wife. "Kisses," she declared, are the essence of life. I find that the more I am kissed by my husband the fatter I get. But that won't make me cut down on the kisses."

SAPPHIRE TO FACE MURDER CHARGE IN LIQUOR CASE

Warrant Is Sworn Out Against "Dry" Agent by Brother of the Man He Shot to Death.

CASE WILL BE TRIED IN FEDERAL COURTS

Government Will Contend That Defendant Killed R. L. Peek in Defense of His Life.

A warrant charging murder to Federal Prohibition Agent Harry Saphire, slayer of R. L. Peek, of 405 Hillhouse avenue, East Point, was issued at 1:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon by Judge L. F. McClelland, of the municipal court, and will be served on the prohibition agent some time Wednesday. The warrant was sworn out by H. G. Peek, a brother of the dead man.

A District Attorney Hooper Alexander at once directed Assistant District Attorney Hal Lindsay to draw up an application for a writ of habeas corpus whereby the case will be transferred to the United States district court as the government is charged with the duty of defending its arresting officers against charges of murder when the killing involved resulted from an attempt to enforce federal laws.

Report of Saphire.

In defending Saphire the government will contend that the officer shot Peek in defense of his own life. Saphire's official report of the killing, which was made in writing Tuesday afternoon to Major James A. Fort, state prohibition director, stated that the agent had succeeded in just prior to the killing in purchasing two pints of whiskey from Peek, and had gone to Peek's room in the Gate City hotel a few minutes later to place Peek under arrest. Saphire fired at Peek once, the bullet entering the man's jaw and proceeding upward to his brain.

There were two eye-witnesses to the shooting. C. S. Bennett, of 112 Hazard street, who is connected with the dry office, and C. E. Cunningham, of 174 Central place, who was driving a car for Saphire, were the officers at the time. They agreed in every detail of their story.

CHILD DIES OF BURNS

While Playing With Matches Clothes Become Ignited.

Following a few hours of suffering, Mary McWaters, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McWaters, of 416 East Fair street, died of burns received about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of her aunt, Mrs. J. C. Calloway, 83 Grant street, where, it is understood, she was playing with matches in company with a small boy, her cousin, when the flames ignited her clothing.

Heroic efforts were made by Mrs. Calloway, who was first attracted by the girl's screams, to put out the flames, and she was painfully burned about the hands and arms.

Grady hospital was notified and an ambulance rushed to the scene. The child died at the hospital at 4:30 o'clock.

She is survived by her parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McWaters. The body was taken to the chapel of Harry G. Poole Tuesday night and will be sent to the residence Wednesday morning. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

MANSON BOARD TO MEET TODAY

Legislative Committee Will Consider Various Forms of Leases and Buildings to Be Erected.

Steps toward ascertaining if the governor's mansion property will be subject to taxation if leased for fifty years under terms provided in a bill passed by the legislature at its recent session will be taken at once by Governor Thomas W. Hardwick, who will discuss this important feature of the lease with the members of the governor's mansion lease commission at their first meeting in the office of the governor Wednesday.

It is the opinion of the governor that the property owned by the state is not subject to taxation, but he will request the attorney-general to issue a ruling in the case. If the mansion property is not subject to tax, county and state taxes applied being leased, the state's revenue from the property will be substantially increased.

At the meeting Wednesday the commission will be organized, a subcommittee will be named to take charge of matters to be handled in the future and various forms of leases and various proposals as to the buildings, to be erected on the property will be discussed.

Could Pay Larger Rental.

It has been called to the attention of the governor that the mansion property is similar in many respects to this state-owned railroad property which is not subject to

STORY OF A STATE'S LEGAL TAX RATE THAT WORKS LIKE THERMOMETER MERCURY

The tax system in the state of Tennessee is perhaps the most unique in the southern states. The rate is fixed by law on a sliding scale.

In 1919, after the armistice, the Tennessee legislators saw the necessity for a reconstruction program, including the immediate improvement of her educational institutions for the thousands of boys and girls who would desire to enter technical and vocational training in the new post-bellum order of things.

Consequently a complete new taxation system was adopted in that year, not only prescribing the tax rate by so many cents on the hundred dollar valuation, but so regulated it that the rate would automatically go up or down, like the mercury in a thermometer, according to the total assessed valuations of property.

It makes one of the most intricate but interesting studies in taxation in the southern states, and James A. Hollomon, The Constitution's staff correspondent, will begin in tomorrow's Constitution a comprehensive discussion of the Tennessee tax and school laws.

As in all of the Hollomon series dealing with tax and school systems in the southern states, the controversial element will be eliminated; and the details of the systems will be held up to public appraisal just as they are.

The Tennessee series will be especially interesting and instructive. The state adjoins Georgia, and her conditions are much the same, although she is an inland state, with a population several hundred thousand smaller than Georgia, and with only ten congressional districts as against twelve in Georgia.

The comparisons, therefore, with Georgia will be of peculiar importance.

PREDICTS ADVANCE IN COTTON PRICE ACCOUNTS SHORTAGE

Bureau of Census Statistics Show Over Four-Million-Bale Reduction in World Supply.

BIGGER CONSUMPTION EXPECTED THIS YEAR

Price of 18 Cents and Up Forecast by Director of Cotton Seed Crushers' Body.

Washington, August 30.—(Special by Constitution Leased Wire).—That a reduction in the world's available supply of cotton of some 4,000,000 to 5,000,000 bales from the stocks of July, 1920, according to statistics compiled by the bureau of census, will cause a marked advance in price ranging from 18 cents and better, is expressed in a statement issued today by W. Arthur Shelton, director of market research, of the Interstate Cotton Seed Crushers' association.

Citing the increasing textile operations of central European mills since the armistice, and the world's cotton spindleage increase of 10,000,000 spindles from 1913 to 1921, together with the present activity of the War Finance corporation in perfecting plans for the administration of the billion dollar fund of the agricultural relief act, recently approved by the president, the report states that the world's consumption of cotton is expected to again reach the average figure of 20,000,000 bales during the coming year provided prices should remain normal around 18 cents per pound.

"Of course, the price will not remain at these levels under such extraordinary conditions," the report stated, "but on the contrary, the price will advance sufficiently to make the demand not more than the supply."

Two Men Are Hurled Over River of Death From Electric Chair

Trenton, N. J., August 30.—Frank J. James and Raymond W. Schuck, of Camden, N. J., were electrocuted Tuesday night for the murder of David S. Paul, a bank messenger, whom they also robbed of $65,000 in cash and securities on October 2, 1920.

The body was buried in a cemetery and recovered after the two men confessed. Schuck protested his innocence to the end and went to his death with a smile. James was in a state of collapse and had to be carried to the electric chair.

Police Reforms Dominant Issue in City Primary

Eleven Councilmen and Three Aldermen Will Be Named Out of Entry List of Thirty Candidates.

19 OUT OF 30 CALL FOR POLICE CHANGES

Three School Commissioners to Be Elected and Two Referendums Will Face Voters.

With police reform the principal issue to be decided, Atlanta voters will go to the polls today to elect three aldermen and eleven councilmen. Nineteen of the thirty candidates are in favor of police reform.

In addition to the aldermen and councilmen, the people will vote on the election of a school commissioner from the first, third and fifth ward, a general manager of waterworks, six executive committees in each ward, and two referendums, which are:

A referendum to restore the ad valorem tax rate of Atlanta to $15.00 on the $100, and a referendum seeking the opinion of the voters on the matter of electing all department heads by the people.

The tax increase will be voted on at the same polling places as the primary, but in separate ballot boxes. The polls will open at 7

Hero of Sixties Tells How Bunco Gang Robbed Him

"You Will Vote for Honesty Wednesday," Judge Hill Tells Sixth Warders.

An old fellow, bent and gray, almost slighted, but with the fire of fight ringing in his voice, spoke to an Atlanta political gathering last night. He told a gripping story of how he had been impoverished in Atlanta by organized brigandage against which Atlanta had refused to lend him either protection or aid.

He told how he had loved Atlanta, how one of his earliest votes had been to bring the capital of Georgia here, how he had fought and bled to save the city from an invading host, how he had suffered imprisonment in Atlanta's cause. But there was no rancor in his heart against the city. "I still love Atlanta," he said, "and I still have confidence in Atlanta, and that's the reason I'm talking to you people tonight. I know that you are going out and vote tomorrow and that you are going to vote for honesty in office holding and civic righteousness, and that as a result no more people will have to bear the cross that I have had to bear in my old age."

TAXES AND TARIFF BEFORE COMMITTEE

Action of Senate Finance Committee on Two Important Measures Cannot Be Forecast.

Constitution Bureau, Raleigh Hotel, Washington, August 30.—(Special, by Constitution Bureau Wire.) Today, it is tax. Tomorrow, it is tariff. That is the brief development of the situation with the senate finance committee, which has declined to take a recess until September 21, with its colleagues. This body, which has the same authority in the senate as the ways and means committee carries in the house, expects to keep up hearings every day between now and the end of the congressional recess.

The latest state has that the tax revision bill will come up first in the senate, thereby causing further delay to the tariff bill, which was passed by the house in July, and for which purpose the congress was primarily called into extra session. The senate is expected to change the tax bill in many details. Foremost, it is believed, the senate finance committee would like to change the provision repealing the excess profits tax so it would be retroactive to January 1, 1921. That is what the republican members of the committee, and the bill passed the house with the repeal clause effective January 1, 1922.

Fear to Tinker.
Observers here believe the senate is afraid to tinker with the excess profits repeal, for the house might overturn their decision when the bill comes from conference, and refuse to repeal at all. In the end, it is expected that the excess profits tax will not be repealed by congress until January 1, 1922.

The so-called "business" taxes will have consideration in the senate with the prospect of reductions along the same lines as adopted by the house. But the situation discloses the leadership trend of the congress which has taken a month off before finishing the tariff bill. The tax or tariff bill, both of which were the prime reasons given for the call of the extra session by President Harding in April.

The senate has a huge task before it in order to finish the tariff and tariff bills before the regular session of congress, which convenes on November 1, when the disarmament conference meets, and no one familiar with the traditions of the senate as exemplified in the past few years would think for a moment that the conference will be ignored on the floor.

Eager to Hear Borah.
It is to be noted that Senator William E. Borah, irreconcilable republican, did not attend the majority conference of the senate foreign relations committee at the white house last week when President Harding made known the contents of the Germany peace treaty. Senator Borah, who is also an irreconcilable republican, and member of the committee, was out of the city.

Senator Borah is the original disarmament advocate since the world war. The plans of the Harding conference were not his, and an eager gallery awaits the first comment of Senator Borah on the floor of the senate when the Japs jolt hands with the Italians in company with Premiers Lloyd-George and Briand at the Washington conference.

Congress has a full program for the few weeks between October and December, when the regular session begins for the annual appropriation bills to consume much time.

A side light on the tariff bill in the house was the exclusion of the democratic members from the deliberations of the ways and means committee, and the likelihood that the senate will adopt the same course in the finance committee.

GOVERNMENT PROBING KU KLUX IN CHICAGO
Chicago, August 30.—Federal investigation of the Ku Klux Klan has started in Chicago by John V. Clinlin, assistant United States district attorney, he announced today. Numerous complaints have been coming to his office since the organization of a branch of the Klan here three weeks ago, Colonel Clinlin said. Allegations that the Klan is opposed to public policy, that it makes no accounting of the money it collects, that it makes a profit on its regalia and therefore is a corporation operating for profit and that lawless acts have been ascribed to persons acting in the guise of the Klan will form the basis of the investigation, according to Colonel Clinlin.

"I don't wish, as yet, to cast any reflection upon the organization or its leadership—but if I find anything wrong I'll blow the lid off," Colonel Clinlin said. He said he had not yet decided whether he would question Colonel William Joseph Simmons, of Atlanta, Ga., acknowledged head of the organization.

COLONEL W. J. SIMMONS WILL WELCOME PROBE.
Colonel W. J. Simmons, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, declared Tuesday that he would welcome an investigation by the federal government or any other authorities. "I have no fear of any investigation that may be made of the affairs of the Klan," he said. "Several investigations have already been made and none of them have developed anything to discredit the order."

90 Per Cent of Public Against Enforcement Of Dry Law, Says Craig
Nashville, Tenn., August 30.—E. B. Craig, retiring collector of internal revenue for Tennessee, today told members of a local club at a luncheon that at least 65 per cent of the officers of the law in this state are co-operating with moonshiners and bootleggers. Mr. Craig asserted that he was 25 illicit whiskey stills in the state today in comparison with one in December, 1913, when the moonshiners were opposed to the present enforcement of the prohibition law.

Lowly Democrats Haven't a Chance, Says Charles Crisp

Ga. Representative Blames G. O. P. for "Tyrannical" Methods of Congress.

Americus, Ga., August 30.—(Special.)—The congress of the United States is "high-handed." It is worse than that. It is "tyrannical." And, lo, the lowly democrats haven't a chance to say or do anything, but vote when their measures come up.

"To show you how high-handed they are, I mention their method in the house in handling the tariff bill. Remember, the house has a republican majority of 175 members, the democrats having only 125 seats, and in the senate they have a majority of 24 members, besides a republican president.

"When the tariff matter came up for consideration by the ways and means committee, public hearings were held for several days, after which the democratic members were told they could not meet with the lower branch, returned home today, and without meeting words, gave the republicans all the credit, or discredit, for having fixed things so the democrats haven't even a "look in."

"Old Joe" Fordney was the only G. O. P. to receive anything in the nature of a compliment from Congressman Crisp—and he is as much of a protectionist as the American congressman, according to the latter.

Methods Given.
"I have never seen as high-handed or tyrannical congress in my experience in the house," said Judge Crisp. "The fact is, the republicans have fixed it so the democrats haven't a chance to say or do anything but vote when their measures come up."

"To show you how high-handed they are, I mention their method in the house in handling the tariff bill. Remember, the house has a republican majority of 175 members, the democrats having only 125 seats, and in the senate they have a majority of 24 members, besides a republican president.

"When the tariff matter came up for consideration by the ways and means committee, public hearings were held for several days, after which the democratic members were told they could not meet with the republican members while the bill was being framed. So we were kept out.

"But the halls around the room where the republican members were at work on the bill resembled a public hearing, with agents and representatives of special interests swarming around thickly, being admitted and heard on what they wanted.

"When the bill," he continued, "was completed, democratic committee members were called in and the bill laid before them with the information that was what would be reported and recommended to the house by the majority, but that we democrats could submit a minority report if we cared to and vote against the majority bill. That was all the consideration we got.

"By a method of rules the democrats were blocked absolutely from doing anything but voting against the measures.

Helpless on Tariff.
That is why I begged so frantically with the republicans to remove the tariff on potatoes. I was helpless to do anything else. The house voted the tariff on potatoes just the same, but I am hopeful the senate will recant and vote to place it on the free list.

"Old Joe Fordney, my chairman, is a thorough protectionist at heart.

He wants protection on his staff and is willing to accord it to anyone else, regardless of section.

"That is why I was able to get him to write into the emergency tariff bill a duty on vegetable oils and peanuts imported from the Orient in competition with cottonseed oil, which was purely a tariff for revenue and in accordance with democratic principle. But the New Englanders are not that way. They want a high tariff on manufactured goods and none on farm production.

"That is what the democrats in congress are up against this session. They haven't much chance."

BODY OF ANOTHER AMERICAN FOUND IN AIRSHIP WRECK
Hull, August 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—The body of still another American who was killed in the ZR-2 disaster was found today. It was that of Maurice Lay, 61, Greenboro, N. C., a rigger.

At the inquest held today, Flying Officer Miller testified that the body of Brigadier General Maitland which was recovered yesterday, was found on the airship near the water ballast controls, which in emergencies are operated in an endeavor to insure the safety of an airship.

On hearing this testimony, the coroner commented on the fact that the body was found in a position which seemed to indicate that it was possible to save the vessel and his crew. The proceedings before the coroner today were purely formal.

It is said here that the body of Lieutenant Commander Emory Coll, of Marietta, Ohio, will be buried at sea in accordance with a wish Coll often had expressed to his wife.

Treatlin Fair.
Soperton, Ga., August 30.—(Special.)—The first fair to be held in Treatlin county will be held October 2 to 8, at Soperton. The fair grounds are about complete. H. R. Davis, J. E. Hall, N. L. Gillis, Jr., and D. R. Jackson are officers of the fair association.

Nothing Adds So Much to the Luxury and Comfort of the Home as Linen

LINEN prices are way down, HALF AND LESS THAN HALF THAN THEY WERE LAST YEAR, and this is the best kind of news, for nothing is so welcome to womankind in general as FINE LINENS for the HOME. Our selections have been made with the utmost care. WE WANT YOU TO KNOW THAT IN SPITE OF THE LOWERED PRICES THERE HAS BEEN NO LOWERING OF QUALITY. The same PURE IRISH LINENS, the same wonderful Linen Towelings you have always found here are here for your choosing this season. We do not think we have ever seen such really beautiful linens any season before. It seems, somehow, as though the manufacturers with lowered prices as an incentive, have just determined to make the most entrancing things they can think of to tempt the fancy of particular women. These linens will not stay on the shelves long. Atlanta women know too much about LINEN VALUES not to take advantage of these wonderful offerings.

Welfare Department Meeting Woman's Club.

The public welfare department of the Atlanta Woman's club held its first fall meeting yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, with Mrs. H. H. Goodhart, chairman, presiding and a very interesting program was given.

After an opening prayer by Mrs. E. M. Boykin, president of the club, Mrs. Goodhart outlined briefly the purposes of the meeting, and introduced Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, first vice president of the club and chairman of the public welfare committee of the state federation, who spoke on "Public Welfare."

Mrs. Goodhart introduced formally the committee chairman of the child welfare division, who are Mrs. Frances Brown Chase, secretary and press chairman; Mrs. Charles Goodman, treasurer; Mrs. Alice Taylor, auditorium chairman; Mrs. John A. Mance, chairman of the clothing committee; Mrs. Spurgeon King, chairman of the education committee; Mrs. Victor Krieger, chairman of the playground committee; Mrs. John M. Cooper, chairman of the entertainment committee; Miss Evelyn Stevens, chairman of children's entertainments; Mrs. Charles Goodman, chairman of Christmas tree committee.

Miss Rhoda Kauffman, secretary of the state board of public welfare, also addressed the meeting on the child welfare work being done by the state board. Mrs. Omar Elder also spoke on the state work. Mrs. S. F. Boykin, chairman of the division on public conditions, introduced the chairman who will serve with her in this division, as follows: Mrs. Charles R. Harmon, chairman of Red Cross and anti-tuberculosis; Mrs. A. G. Helmer, chairman of prisons; Dr. Elizabeth Brooker, chairman of social hygiene.

Juvenile court work was stressed as the principal effort of this committee, the main purpose being to aid in securing a new detention home. The care of the individual cases brought before the court, recommended by the judge, will also feature the special work of this department of the club.

Committee to Confer With Coal Dealers.

At a meeting of the coal committee, Atlanta Woman's club, held yesterday at the club house, a committee was appointed to confer with the coal dealers of Atlanta on plans for keeping the price of coal this winter down to a reasonable level. Alonzo Richardson, first vice president of the club, will be the representative of the club in this matter. No coal will be sold through the club.

The business of the meeting was handled at luncheon. There was a large attendance and a delicious repast was served.

Labor Will Begin Membership Drive Next Labor Day

Atlantic City, N. J., August 30.—A campaign of the American Federation of Labor for a membership of 5,000,000 will be launched on Labor day, the federation's executive council announced today.

President Samuel Gompers has issued an appeal to labor throughout the country to begin on Labor day in public gatherings for "inspiring public addresses and distribution of literature of our movement."

The campaign has been ordered by the council because of the recent slump in membership of the federation due to unemployment. The present membership is given as 3,900,528 as compared with 4,678,740 in 1920.

which would bring Sir James Craig, Ulster premier, into the negotiations, will result from the Daily cabinet's action.

A delegation from Fermanagh and Tyrone appeared before President de Valera and the cabinet Tuesday afternoon protesting against their inclusion in the counties of Ulster, and presenting a memorial pointing out that at the recent election these counties were against the partition by a majority of 7,821.

SPECIAL SESSION TO PROBE MURDER

Pierce Court Convenes on September 12 to Investigate Sheriff's Death. Another Arrest Made.

Waycross, Ga., August 30.—(Special.)—The second Monday in September has been set as the date for the opening of a special session of superior court in Waycross, Ga., for the purpose of investigating the murder of Sheriff John W. Robertson last week, according to a statement made today by Solicitor Allen B. Spence.

G. M. Woolsey was picked up today by the Chattanooga police and is being held as a suspect in connection with the killing of Sheriff Robertson. The man admits being in Pierce county on the day of the killing.

Woolsey is said to bear numerous bruises and scratches on his body. He claims he went from Pierce county on the Florida line to Chattanooga in two days in an automobile with a stranger. Neither asked the other's name.

Bruce Murder. Sheriff Robertson, who officiated in Pierce county for fourteen years, was brutally murdered in a dense glade near Patterson, when he stumbled on a large moonshine distillery, while in search for an alleged horse thief.

The sheriff was in a party with a posse which was forced to punt the horse thief, but left the remainder of the party when they saw a column of smoke rising from a nearby thicket, with the idea of surrounding the supposed thief who was believed to be in camp there. When shot was heard the party rushed to the officer, finding him in a dying condition, face down and strangling, in a pond of water.

A large body of men constituted a searching party and an all night hunt was made for the murderer. It was first believed that Randall Thomas, alleged horse thief and an escapee from Florida, was the guilty party, but further investigations proved that a number of other men were implicated in the matter.

Eighteen Now Held. It is the opinion of Sheriff H. J. Sweet of this county, who together with other Ware county officers, played an important part in the man hunt, that practically all parties connected with the killing have been apprehended. Seventeen arrests were made last week.

Mage Carter, the confessed murderer, who together with Randall Thomas and a negro who is believed to know practically everything about the crime, is still in the custody of Chattanooga county officers in Savannah, and will probably be held there till the trial is called next month. Carter sticks to his original statement that he was the one murderer of the Pierce county officer, and states that all the shots were fired from his own gun. He assumes the guilt of the entire affair, according to reliable reports here, and has not changed his testimony given at the time of the arrest and confession.

Roy Carter's Statement. Roy Carter, brother of Mage Carter and eye witness to the tragedy, is held in the Ware county jail. His statement today is to the effect that his brother was not the only one who shot Robertson, but that Randall Thomas shares the guilt. Thomas was caught near Card. He denies having fired any shots or of having taken part in the assassination. Three other men, Oscar Henry and John Aspinwall, are also held in the Ware county jail. These men live near the swamp where the murder was committed, and are alleged to be the operators of the large still.

The statements of all parties connected with the affair are confused and contradictory. Many conjectures have been made with reference to the killing, but no conclusion has been reached. The fact that the moonshine is believed to be supported by the fact that shells of different caliber were picked up on the water near where the deed was perpetrated, and the report that leads of different sizes were extracted from the murdered man's body.

The sheriff was called to Patterson early Tuesday morning to arrest Thomas, alleged to be a horse thief. Mrs. Thomas is said to have directed him where he was hiding and in following her directions the officer walked into an ambush where the murder took place. The theory was immediately advanced that the woman was a participant in the affair and the agreement she sent the sheriff into the ambush. It is reported here that the evidence against the woman is so meager that she was liberated, but will probably be used as a witness in the case.

Making Rigid Drive. Sheriff Robertson, it is said, had been conducting a vigorous campaign against prohibition violators in the county, and it is possible that his murder was an act of revenge by the makers of the illicit beverage. Carter was apprehended at the home of Aspinwall, where the base of the liquor plant is believed to have been situated, and where a large quantity of shine was confiscated by the officers in charge of the posse.

A negro in the employ of the moonshiners is believed to know practically everything connected with the operation of the distillery, and with the murder of the sheriff, but he has remained silent. The negro was in company with the owners of the still when they were captured by members of the searching party, and it was then his direction that they found Carter at the Aspinwall home.

REGISTRATION AT ELIZABETH MATHER

WEDNESDAY, 10 TO 12

Girls and young ladies who wish to enter Elizabeth Mather School for Girls for the fall term should not overlook registration at the school, 65 East Fourteenth street, today, 10 to 12 o'clock.

This is very important, as the school, although in larger quarters, will observe the same strict rule against overcrowding as it has in the past. Individual instruction and personal attention to each student is our policy, and this cannot be successfully carried out when the school is crowded.

Many courses are available, among which may be mentioned Journalism, Secretarial Art, Commercial Art, Interior Decoration, Kindergarten, Home Economics and Mothercraft. In addition to the Conservatory and regular college courses, a special session begins Wednesday, September 7, with Miss Mather's Group.

School session begins Wednesday, September 7, with Miss Mather's Group. Mrs. E. M. President, in charge. New location, 65 East Fourteenth street, Telephone HENK 3201, (4th fl.).

congratulations to you and add thereto my very best wishes. Very truly yours, "WARREN G. HARDING."

To this Mrs. Zaccachea replied: "The Mother's Reply."

"My Dear President: "With my grateful pleasure, I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your excellency's letter congratulating me for my remarkable family."

"I wish to be excused for the delay in acknowledging receipt. "I was very delighted at the news that you come from a large family and your mother was proud of having given birth to eight children and raised six to maturity. "I gave birth to nineteen children, sixteen of whom are alive, as their photographs are herein enclosed, and I send it to you as my most precious possession."

"My husband and I are never discouraged of the great task before us, as the older ones help to support the younger ones. I regret that my husband's earning capacity is only $20 per week, employed by John W. Wamsucker of this city."

"I can ask of your excellency's recommendation for a better position to my husband, where his earning capacity will be larger than his present one, so that will give us an opportunity to bring the younger children to maturity with a better education."

"With great appreciation of your kind interest, I am, Sir, very respectfully yours, "MRS. DOMENICO ZACCACHEA."

Appeals to Wamsucker. In writing Mr. Wamsucker, the president, enclosing a copy of Mrs. Zaccachea's appeal, said he hoped it might be possible to find a way of helping the mother and her family, although he explained that he knew nothing whatever of the merits of the case.

Mr. Wamsucker replied that Zaccachea spoke very little English, that he had been employed two years and was earning $2 a week more than others doing similar work. He promised, however, to advance him, if that could be done, and also to find a job for one of the sixteen children, a son, 22 years old, described as being "as tall and strong as his father."

CONCENTRATING FOR ATTACK.

By JOHN GLASSBORO. United States Correspondent. Madison, W. Va., August 30.—Miners are reported to be concentrating on the Logan border and at Blair, just over the line, for the purpose of advancing on Logan. Several bands of heavily armed men passed through here Tuesday, heading toward the southwestern counties.

is feared is imminent along the Guyandotte from the miners. Machine gunners and riflemen have been placed.

Outposts have been strengthened. Forces guarding the narrow pass through which is thought entry might be attempted, have been strengthened and reserves await the call of a siren whistle to rush to any point where there is danger.

Airplane Scouts Report. Information received at the headquarters of the citizen army under Sheriff Don Chasin has been such as to cause anxiety. Miners, it was feared, might strike in order to cross into Lincoln county before cavalry troops were dispatched into the trouble area.

Airplane scouts reported large bodies of men concentrating along the border between the counties. Other information told of continually increasing bodies of miners who were reported to be moving slowly toward Logan.

One band, said to number 2,500, was reported to have congregated at Jeffers, on Bullock creek. They were other reports of large bodies at Blair. Blair is close to the territory under jurisdiction of state troopers under Captain Brock. Jeffers is fourteen miles down the Guyandotte from Blair. They were under Sheriff Bill Hattied, are posted.

Logan county forces have been augmented by the organization of a battalion of former service men. These are drilled and drilled like soldiers.

Night of Anxiety. The night was one of anxiety and the tension prevailed until the situation rapidly was approaching a climax. Disturbing news from across the mountains and belief that the tense atmosphere was bound to clear, one way or another, was responsible for the feeling. Men went about the business of preparing for a battle with grim faces.

Five minutes of beginning to tell on the leaders. For days they have waited for the onrush reared at any minute night or day. The continued maintenance of forces in the field has given birth to a smooth running organization, almost like an army. Supply wagons carry food and other necessities to regular intervals. Outposts are relieved with precision. Automobiles are used constantly with loads of riflemen headed for the hills.

The headquarters of Sheriff's Hatfield and Chasin is a suite of several rooms in a hotel.

Messengers continually arrive. Conferences on strategy are held. Wires through a private switchboard radiate to the Charleston capitol, to the settlements that serve as headquarters and to surrounding towns.

Airplane scouts are a part of Chasin's forces. They fly over the mountains of the "enemy country" and report where the largest bodies of men are located. Then the force on this side of the ridge are strengthened where it is thought there is need.

No one knows whether the invaders will be attempted or what will happen if it is successful, but citizens know that an attempt will work much bloodshed.

The defenders, whose numbers probably are small, have the advantage of posts on the mountains. They command the territory from which the invaders would come. They are in the mountains as narrow, making them easy to defend.

COTTON ESTIMATE
7,905,700 BALES

(From The New York Journal of Commerce.)

New York, August 30.—(Special.) From the usual monthly survey into the cotton crop conditions undertaken by this journal, it will be seen that August, 1921, has been a month of extremely severe deterioration. Since the date of our last report, July 31, percentage condition has declined 12.1 per cent, or 1,000,000 bales. This figure represents the opinions of the Journal of Commerce correspondents under an average date of August 24, 1921. It is a discouraging condition of 73.8 per cent, or 7,905,700 bales, a decline of 10.1 per cent since the last report of July 31, 1921. The smallest August loss in the ten year period under review was in the record year of 1914, when a crop of 16,184,980 bales was finally raised, namely, 1.5 per cent to 77.8 per cent. It would seem, therefore, when the reduction in acreage is taken into consideration that this year's yield of cotton is likely to be much curtailed.

7,905,700 Bales Estimate.
Following the present method of calculation, the estimated yield for 1921 will be 7,905,700 bales, or 11.1 per cent of the 1914 record crop of 16,184,980 bales. The next lowest yield since 1911, was in 1919, 1920, 1921, which total 32,107,000 acres were planted.

An analysis by states shows declines in per cent conditions in all but Tennessee, which gained 1.3 per cent to 72 per cent. In Missouri, where the condition figure is 74.5 per cent, a gain of .3 per cent. In Louisiana, which lost 1.3 per cent to 50 per cent. Oklahoma came next with 15.2 per cent to 61.1 per cent. Then Louisiana, which dropped 1.8 per cent to 55 per cent. Georgia lost 1.5 per cent to 52.3 per cent, and 11.5 per cent to 40.8 per cent. Arkansas, although losing heavily (.93 per cent) reported a condition of 62.1 per cent. The smallest decline registered by Mississippi, 5.6 per cent to 58.1 per cent. Alabama, 5.8 per cent to 58.5 per cent, and North Carolina, 6.5 per cent to 65.56 per cent.

Crop Prospects Poorer.
According to the views expressed by a majority of responsible and usually well-informed crop experts, conditions in the cotton belt have been more discouraging even for August, which is generally a month of more or less serious deteriorations. Reports from almost all points of the belt speak of unfavorable weather, heavy weevil damage or almost unprecedented proportions and a crop uneven and sorry in appearance and very poorly fruited.

Correspondents seem practically unanimous in the opinion that the wholesale reduction in the use of commercial fertilizer this year are to a considerable extent responsible for the present situation since the plant in nearly every case where drastic cotton reduction has been unable to withstand either disease, ravages by insects or even ordinary climatic changes. The fact is that in a number of states where cotton had made fair progress up to July 1, intense heat and drought of the past month have caused alarming deterioration.

Beyond Recovery.
There are some who feel that the crop, as it is injured beyond recovery. Returns from Tennessee against this array of misfortune, as in these two states, have been quite favorable for the most part and the crop is in fairly satisfactory condition. However, it should be borne in mind, a year ago after a very late and unfavorable start, a season of alternate intervals of excessive rainfall and drought; heavy weevil damage and a crop uneven and sorry in appearance. Earlier predictions of as low as 9,000,000 bales. This, of course, was with an acreage planted of 37,042,000 acres.

This year, though, prospects are unduly gloomy and acreage is estimated at only 25,519,000. It is not altogether improbable that when the final returns are made it will be found that there were "good" crops in some measure counteracted the bad. Moreover, the season is not yet over, and given the weather, and a late fall, it might be possible to recoup a certain proportion of losses, especially since

The crop is still estimated in a good mood, as from two to three weeks late.

In the season of 1918, when August percentage condition was 71.4 per cent to 60.0 per cent, final reports showed that a crop of 12,044,000 bales of cotton was raised, or an estimated acreage of 37,207,000.

Press Association
To Meet Friday, September 2d

Winder, Ga., August 30.—(Special.)—Winder will entertain the Ninth Georgia District Press Association next Friday, September 2. The editors of the eighth district have been invited to meet with the quill drivers of the ninth and many of them will be present. The meeting will be called to order at 10 o'clock Friday morning by the president of the district, Editor J. W. McWhorter, of the Winder News. Upon their arrival in the city, the editors and their wives will receive an informal reception at the New Winder hotel, after which they will be taken to the court house for the business meeting. The program is as follows:

Address by Editor Ernest Camp, of Monroe, president of the Eighth District Press Association.
Reading minutes previous meeting.
Enrollment of new members.
Report of committees.
The following subjects will be discussed at the meeting: "Should the Foreign Advertiser Pay a Higher Rate Than the Local Advertiser?" Editor J. W. McWhorter, of the Winder News.
"An Attractive Local Page"—Mrs. Emma S. Thompson, of the Commerce News.
"Newspaper Boll Weevils"—George D. Rucker, of the Atlanta Free Press.

Some problems in the newspaper game and what to do about them.—A. S. Hardy, of the Gainesville News.
Address by Hon. W. G. Sullivan, president of the Georgia Press Association.

amount to 8,000,000 bales, stated the report, and the other crop of the world should be only 80 per cent of the yield of 1920, the world production for 1921 would be 29,000,000 bales, or roughly two-thirds of that of 1920. The average annual consumption for 1921-17 was 29,241,000 bales, or 7,556,000 bales more than the estimated production of 1921. If the consumption of 1921-17 is maintained, the stocks on July 31, 1922, would be 1,688,000 bales, less than on July 31, 1920, it is said, in estimating 30 per cent production of 1920 for other countries of the United States, the report was conservative. The acreage in Egypt is reported 25 per cent less than for 1920, the crop in Peru is reported very much reduced and very poor, according to department figures, and it seems entirely likely that the production of all countries except the United States would be reduced 25 per cent instead of the 20 per cent estimated above. In addition to this, large reduction in the acreage of hemp and cotton fibers in Australia, the past twelve months is found in various market research reports.

Considering the American crop alone, the reduction for this year from that of last year is 40.5 per cent. The largest previous reduction was 30.6 per cent in 1915, when the world was in a panic of commercial relations were greatly disturbed. The next nearest approach was 24.4 per cent in 1909, in both these previous cases there was a great difference in prices.

That a bullish attitude of the market will ensue from these conditions is the belief of all persons questioned in the compilation of the report, it stated, as there is no precedent for so large a reduction.

"There are many reasons to expect at least a normal consumption of cotton during the coming year," adds the statement. "The world depression in textiles began in April, 1920. The consumption in the United States has been reduced more than the industrial depression than that of the cotton market, and the low point was reached in December, 1920, when the mill consumption was roughly half that of a prosperous period. The mill consumption since December has greatly increased until it is almost at the 1913 average, and will probably approach closely the average production during the recent prosperous period by October."

"Central European mills have been slowly increasing their textile operations since the armistice. This has been checked slightly during the recent depression, but will doubt go forward from this time. The world's spinning has been considerably increased since 1913. From 1913 to 1921 the world's cotton mill production was increased roughly 145,000,000 to almost 155,000,000, an increase of 10,000,000 spindles."

The agriculture relief act was approved by the president August 24, and the war finance corporation is actively engaged in preparing plans for the administration of the act. It provides a billion dollars for the war finance corporation to assist in financing the carrying of agricultural commodities until they can be marketed in an orderly way. This is an extraordinary measure for which there is no precedent.

World Shortage.
"The deflation program, which was the chief cause of the panic of 1920, has also caused a world's shortage of cotton and cottonseed products and of many other commodities to a less extent. When this shortage begins to cause an advance in prices, congress comes forward with a relief measure, which would seem to aid in an unprecedented reversal in the prices of the commodities. On branch of the government inflates our currency and credit the heights and then orders a dose of deflation, and our nerves. Congress now plays the part of a savior from the crisis before us. The analogy is not complete because congress did not make the mistake of October-December, 1920. The young eagles of the farm have already learned the lesson of growing a half crop of cotton, and prices will now soar without the supporting wings of congress."

This agricultural relief act may lead to the permanent assistance of agricultural interest in financing their commodities. That is, the government may enter the field of agricultural banking by furnishing considerable credit directly in time of peace, whereas the war finance corporation has been created as a temporary expedient.

Insurance Returns.
Savannah, Ga., August 30.—(Special.)—Savannah Insurance Policyholders and their beneficiaries received in Savannah in the past year nearly six hundred thousand dollars, according to reports published this week. The largest amount in total of death claims is the late W. W. Osborn, prominent attorney, his insurance paid amounting to $175,750, it is said.

HERRING PREDICTS
25-CENT COTTON

Asserting that efforts to buy cotton at 16 cents, basis middling, found no sellers Tuesday afternoon, F. Herring, of R. F. Herring & Co., cotton merchants, at 25 Exchange place, Tuesday night expected a high cotton price in the continued rise in the cotton market, and predicted that spot cotton will reach 25 cents before October 25.

Holding that a constant demand from the mills is responsible for the sharp advance in the market, Mr. Herring said that the actual demand for cotton is not so great as it is reported to be, and that the mills which suspended operation are not so numerous as is claimed. He said that the mills which are now operating are not so numerous as is claimed, and that the mills which are now operating are not so numerous as is claimed. He said that the mills which are now operating are not so numerous as is claimed, and that the mills which are now operating are not so numerous as is claimed.

IN PACIFIC RECK

San Francisco, Cal., August 30.—Forty-four men, officers and crew of the Canadian freighter, are now thought to have gone to a watery grave.

When the American steamer Cordova left the importer last Thursday, the Canadian freighter was on board, and the two ships were together. The Cordova was a 4,000-ton ship, and the Cordova was a 4,000-ton ship.

No trace has ever been found of the freighter. Floating lumber and wreckage reported by several vessels leads to the belief that the importer has foundered in the gales of the last few days.

If the Canadian importer has sunk "finis" will be written to one of the strongest shipping companies in the world. The freighter carried a lumber cargo so huge that shipping men say it would have been impossible for her to sink without a help from the sea.

While she has been reported to have been searched for nearly a week and no sign of the ship other than some floating debris has been found.

New pupils have enrolled this week from Sandersonville, Harbison, Locust Grove, Monroeville, Marietta, Talladega, Ala.; Canford, N. C.; Griffin, Ga.; and many other places, besides a large number from Atlanta and its suburbs, although the fall term registration has only begun.

I attended the Southern twenty-one years ago, and now I am here to arrange for my daughter to enter on the first of September," said Mr. J. A. Johnston, now at Atlanta, who came to the Southern Business College from Columbus, Miss. "I have been a successful business man for more than a dozen years. Continuing, Mr. Johnston, who is now a successful Atlanta business man, said: "I was a student of the High School of Columbus. Then I went to the University at Auburn, and afterward spent a year at Columbia University, New York City, and then I came to the Southern Business College. I have been a student of the Southern Shortland and Business University for many years, and I have found it to be a most valuable to me than all of my other literary schooling combined. Although college training is indeed valuable."

POPE WITHDRAWALS
FROM MAYOR'S RACE
IN SHAMROCK CITY

Dublin, Ga., August 30.—(Special.)—Major L. Cleveland Pope, of the Dublin Guards, candidate for mayor in the approaching city primary election, September 23, announced his withdrawal from the race late this afternoon.

The announcement was a complete surprise to all except a few of the city's closest friends. This leaves Mayor L. C. Pope, Jr., as the only candidate for mayor in the city.

Number of the ladies are disturbed over the ruling but are willing to forego one special election for the sake of a general election, which promises to be an interesting race.

No Deaths in Eight Years at Juvenile
Farm in Chatham

Savannah, Ga., August 30.—(Special.)—With the turn of the eighth anniversary of the establishment of the juvenile farm, where youthful delinquents are reformed, the Savannah court of Chatham, the announcement is made that in the eight years, with an average of probably 100 to 125 boys in the place all the time, there has never been a death among the inmates.

Lads are sent up for indefinite terms, parole committees meeting periodically to release a number on good behavior. In the farm they are taught to work in the truck gardens, on the 215-acre farm, about the shops, and in a school room, where each day a competent and efficient colored woman trains them in the elements. Strict discipline is maintained, but a spirit of humane treatment prevails and religious instruction is no small part of their schooling, along with the best impressive moral lessons that can be given.

Savannah, Ga., August 30.—(Special.)—The commissioners of Chatham county have formally inspected and officially accepted the steel arch concrete bridge on the Tybee road now being constructed—the Wilmington bridge, the largest and largest draw bridge of the series which form a vitally important part of the highway to the coast, and the third of which road is not practically completed.

JOHN D. WALKER

of Hancock county, this afternoon, is adopted by Judge J. B. Park at the September term of Hancock superior court.

The report of Judge Johnson has sensational features. The case involves a question of veracity between John D. Walker, at one time prominent Georgia banker, and his former business associates.

The report contains a statement obtained from Walker in San Antonio, Texas, several weeks ago by a representative of the city. The former bank official was a member of the bond commission of the city at the time of his disappearance. The handling of the sinking fund was placed in his hands. When he disappeared, the First National bank was served with a notice to present the fund.

This request was refused by the bank, the statement being made, it is stated, that the money was not there. In his testimony contained in the auditor's report, Walker is said to deny that he handled the funds privately, but as an official of the bank. The other significant points of his testimony have not been learned.

In the report, it is recommended that the banking institutions be required to return the sinking fund to the city.

To the Voters of the Sixth Ward:

I have just noticed an advertisement in the afternoon papers referring to the alleged partnership of Chambers, Richards & Dickey.

Mr. Chambers, Mr. Richards and myself have a joint office and telephone arrangement for the convenience of each other, but the statement made by Mr. Richards that there was no partnership relations among us is absolutely true. Outside of office and telephone expenses each man is entirely independent of the other. There is no division of fees among us. Such an arrangement among lawyers is not at all unusual.

Here's the Proof

of Alvin Richards' Connection With Aldine Chambers

Dr. L. P. Baker, candidate for Council from Sixth Ward, asks Mr. Richards, his opponent, why he denies his connection with his law firm, which appears as follows in The Fulton County Daily Report:

Aldine Chambers A. L. Richards
Eugene Dickey
CHAMBERS, RICHARDS & DICKEY
613 Peters Building
Phone Main 2287

Also in telephone directory:

"Chambers, Richards & Dickey, Attorneys, Peters building., Ivy 1351."

Also on his office windows appear the firm name of "Chambers, Richards & Dickey."

As to Colonel William Lawson Peel employing Aldine Chambers to represent him and his associates as an attorney before the Fulton County Commissioners and Finance Committee of the City Council in his efforts to widen Peachtree street, Colonel Peel denies the same, and states he did not employ Aldine Chambers, but he was employed by James L. Dickey, Jr., brother to Richards' law partner.

Scramble Begins

Today for Homes; It's Moving Time

Bright and early this morning, most of Atlanta's homes will begin their annual moving, and throughout the day and continuing into Thursday, a mad scramble for new residences and apartments.

September 1 has been the city's principal moving day for many years, as the majority of yearly leases expire on that date. According to real estate agents, many families have waited until the very last minute to sign up new contracts, anticipating reductions in rentals, and the result is that although there are a large number of apartments still not leased, there are believed to be no families who have not provided for new quarters. An eleventh-hour rush is expected today.

LARGE AMOUNT

OF CONSTRUCTION SHOWN IN ATHENS

Athens, Ga., August 30.—(Special.)—An estimate made from the permits issued by the city engineer show that the Athens city government recently spent in the construction of business houses, churches, and residences.

Of this amount $500,000 went into the construction of the hand-operated elevator, which is to replace the structure owned by Michael Brothers and which was destroyed by fire in the late spring. The building has about been completed and it is expected that it will be opened by the city early in September.

Only recently the Davison Nicholson construction company expended $75,000 in the erection and finishing of several display windows. The Standard Oil company recently erected a new filling station in the city at the cost of $50,000.

On September 1, the new home of the First Baptist church which is said to have cost $250,000 will be thrown open to the worshiping public.

Since January 1, permits for the erection and remodeling of residences amounting to more than $500,000 have been issued. At present, the city is going forward rapidly and it is believed that the city government is making money investments in residence improvements will be doubled.

ALLEGED BAGGAGE

THIEF IS ARRESTED

Call Officer McDaniel, acting upon information received by the detective department Tuesday afternoon, arrested a man who, detectives assert, is responsible for thefts of baggage and other articles from the Terminal station during the past two months.

The man's name, according to detective reports, is William H. Stewart, alias K. M. Barr. The man later admitted his name to be Stewart, with address at 107 Ivy street, it is stated.

J. Coley, captain of police of the Southern Railway company, identified the prisoner as the man who stole from the Terminal station early Tuesday afternoon a suit case containing a netting bag, a leather bag and a man's hat, and who complained to him about the loss.

Stewart, who has confessed to having taken a number of articles of baggage from the Terminal station during the past two months.

Mr. Altmayer exhibited one of the latest types of measuring and explained how it accurately measures yard goods and automatically figures the price.

Decision to organize a club quarter, and probably a club club, was made by the members of the Kiwanis club. One of the city's best known tenors, was asked to give a musical program. He round up the talent in the organization. He requested all members who think they can sing to appear at 8:30 o'clock next Monday evening at the Masonic temple.

taxation. State, county and city taxes will amount to approximately $200,000. The amount of taxes would be about $80,000 a year. With this amount saved in taxes by the lessee, he would be in a position to pay the state a much greater rental for the property than if it were taxable.

Estimates of the revenue to be derived from the mansion property range from $25,000 to $50,000 a year. These estimates are based on the usual rentals of properties and in making them it was assumed that the building erected on the property would be taxable. It is felt that it is not taxableness the revenue would be about $100,000 a year.

State Senator Frank Manson, of the 35th district, a member of the commission, said he will seek to have a provision inserted in the contract to the effect that part of the rental money shall be paid on residence property which can be adapted for the use of the governor as a governor's mansion.

Governor Not Favorable.

In discussing the suggestion of Senator Manson relative to this proposal Governor Hardwick indicated that he was not inclined to favor it. He called attention to the fact that the legislature rejected an amendment providing for a mansion to be maintained out of the lease money and also pointed out that the legislature made temporary provision for the governor which is adequate for the present.

Optimism increases With Cotton Making Further Advances

Following the continued bull movement of the New York Cotton exchange, which rested contentedly after carrying March, May and July options past the 17-cent mark, Atlanta spots Tuesday sealed the walls 50 points, or $2.50 per bale, to 15.50 over the previous close. On January 14 spots in this city reached 15.25, and since that time took a drop to 14 cents. A net gain of $2.50 a bale was registered yesterday, when the market reached its new high figure here this year. Business leaders were more optimistic over this fall's financial prospects.

With 15 1/2 cents per pound being offered here—the highest quotation since November 24, 1920, when it reached 15.80—the May option in New York was at 17.10, or an advance of 56 points. While no cotton was reported sold here, Atlanta's gain represented 5 1/2 cents above the year's low and 2 1/2 cents above last Tuesday's mark.

Dispatches from Columbus stated that there were sales of cotton there Tuesday at 16 cents, an increase of 5 cents a pound in about a week. The highest grade was quoted at 16 1/2 cents. The rapidly increasing price of cotton is having an electrifying effect on general business conditions throughout west Georgia, the dispatch asserted. The Girard cotton mills, a branch of the Eagle and Phoenix mills, soon will be in operation again, it was learned. This will be the last of the entire local group of textile mills to resume operation. Numbers of the large Columbus cotton mills now running 80 per cent normal output.

State Senator L. C. Brown, of the fourth district, who has just returned from a tour covering a large part of Georgia and Florida, declared last night that the advancing price of cotton has already improved business conditions.

"With cotton bringing a fair price this fall," he said, "and good quotations offered on diversified products, spring will find Georgia in a greatly improved financial condition. Everywhere there is optimism during the past several days that the cotton market has been turned around, and that the depression period is now a thing of the past. The state will now have an opportunity to retrieve its financial losses of the past two years," the senator continued, "if conservative business methods are applied."

STILL HIGHER QUOTATIONS.

New York, August 30.—Still higher prices were established in the cotton market here today with December contracts selling at 16.35, while March and July deliveries went through the 17 level, with March selling at 16.87, with the general market closing steady at a net advance of 50 to 40 points in response to a rather unexpected strong Liverpool cables, accompanied by reports of an increasing demand for futures, and a continued demand for spots in the market. There was heavy trading in the local advance, but it was absorbed on reactions of 20 or 30 points and the bottom market was strong and excited during the early afternoon, owing to an active demand for October.

Three or four prominent bankers supposed to be operating for west and Wall street interests were credited with buying fully 70,000 bales of October, sending the price up to 16.60 and the general list to 61 points above last night's closing figures. As the market advanced, the demand for futures was increased, and the market broke pretty sharply under renewed demand for futures, and a continued decline of 28 or 40 points from the late in the afternoon, however, and the best prices of the day were touched in the late trading with October selling at 16.63 and January at 16.96. The close was only a few points off from the previous day's weather in the southwest seemed to make very little impression on sentiment and a number of reports received claiming that rains now saved would be too late to help the crop. The comparatively small volume of hedge selling was mentioned as a feature as indicating that the market was not in a panic. The fact that the market was not in a panic was mentioned as a feature as indicating that the market was not in a panic.

NEW YORK SPOTS.

New York, August 30.—Spot cotton steady; middling, 16.00.

HIGHER LEVELS IN NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, August 30.—Speculative driving power sent the cotton market to a new high level today, the fact of almost constant advance from the long element, and the fact that the market was in great danger of becoming overbought, and the demand was great enough to absorb all offerings from spot to new high record levels for prices at the same time allowed only narrow reactions that did not last. The opening was excited with prices bulging to a sensational fashion in response to a sensational fashion in the market. Heavy trading in the local advance, but it was absorbed on reactions of 20 or 30 points and the bottom market was strong and excited during the early afternoon, owing to an active demand for October.

Substantial Gains Are Shown in Stocks

BY R. L. BARNUM

New York, August 30.—While the volume of business handled was not heavy, the stock market acted very well today, substantial gains being reported in many industrials. Mexican Petroleum was the feature of the oil stocks, showing an advance of over 4 points on rumors that before the end of the week the stock exchange would make its report on the investigation growing out of last week's false dividend rumors. It is not believed that any headway was made in discovering who it was that sent the false telephone message to the news ticker reporting that dividends had been deferred.

However, according to today's rumors, the stock exchange has discovered during its investigation some very interesting facts dealing with the recent bear campaign in Mexican Petroleum. It is hinted that the trail discovered leads to another stock exchange.

Rails Strong.

Rails also gave a good account of themselves today, partly on additional favorable earnings statements for July, and partly on the news that the interstate commerce commission will shortly take up the question of railway mergers as proposed in the special report made by Professor Ripley, of Harvard. In view of the agitation on the part of some shippers for lower freight rates and the need for still lower railway wages to bring railway rates down to the level paid in other industries, railway officials are pointing out that the decided improvement in their net operating income is due to this or that reason. That is all right as a matter of tactics. But the facts are that the change in railway net income is decidedly encouraging. That in itself would satisfactorily explain the strength shown in the railway shares.

After careful study of the new transportation act it requires great imagination to find anything in the part dealing with mergers on which to base active speculation for the rise. When the Cummings railroad bill was first drawn it provided for compulsory mergers of all of the railroads of the country into not less than 20 or more than 35 systems. But before the bill was passed the compulsory clause was eliminated and provisions were made for consolidations "into a limited number of systems." It was further provided that "competition shall be preserved as fully as possible" in all consolidations; that before any consolidations proposed by the interstate commerce commission are effected the plan "shall have due publicity, and upon reasonable notice, including notice to the governor of each state," and that public hearings shall be held.

Further Provisions.

It is further provided that the bonds and stock of the properties to be thus merged shall not exceed "the value of the consolidated properties as determined by the commission." This means that there are to be no mergers such as marked the sensational speculation in the railway shares from 1898 on for a half dozen years. The object of the proposed mergers is to get rid of the so-called "weak roads." It is possible, too, that when it comes to merging such roads, say, as Erie and Lackawanna, the shareholders of the company last named will have something to say in the courts.

Within the past week the price of cotton has advanced 300 points. Wall street's comment today was that inasmuch as the present sharp upward movement has not resulted in the same selling by southern banks marked the last upward price movement, the position of the south obviously has been improved.

Wall street heard rumors today of some heavy government financing, probably $500,000,000 on notes and treasury certificates; also of negotiations pending for a German credit. The recent negotiations for German credits ended for lack of acceptable security.

Today's Washington dispatches quote Eugene Meyer, of the War Finance corporation, as saying that before the end of this week negotiations will be concluded for pending loans of $30,000,000 for exports of cotton, grain and other farm products.

Steel Order Estimate.

Wall street made its preliminary estimate today on the Steel corporation unfilled order statement as of August 31 to be issued September 10. It was predicted that the decrease in orders would be in the neighborhood of 150,000 tons. A month ago the decrease was 237,000 tons against the decrease of 600,000 tons for the year. The year's total was 2,370,000 tons. With call money opening at 5 per cent today and immediately dropping to 4 1/2, and with interior banks placing call money here through the "outside" market at even lower rates, there is no question but that money for speculative purposes is working easier. A year ago at this time both time and call money were almost unobtainable. But commercial money looks much easier on the surface than it really is. There is little time money available for more business; otherwise Brazil with its credit would not be offering here today $25,000,000 8 per cent twenty-year bonds at a price yielding the investor 8.15 per cent.

Today's annual report of the American Agricultural Chemical company for the year ended June 30, 1927, shows why the 6 per cent cumulative dividend on the preferred and the 8 per cent on the common were passed early last June. In fact, the surprise is that such action was not taken earlier. Today's statement shows a net income for the year of $1,912,000 against $1,742,000 for 1926; inventory adjustments and regular fixed interest charges at $13,069,000 against $4,091,000; a deficit after these deductions of $17,158,000 against last year's surplus of $5,281,000; a final deficit after dividends of $14,144,000 against last year's final surplus after dividends of $1,124,000.

Pittsburgh Coal announces that on September 1 there will be a cut of 15 per cent in the salaries of office staff which includes the president and four thousand. It is stated that this move is the worst in the history of the industry but that improvement in both manufacturing and domestic demand is expected as the season progresses.

Earnings Given.

There are no regular dividend dates for the Hill roads. However, it was officially stated today at the offices of both companies that meetings for the declaration of the new quarterly payments would probably be held late in September. As a result of these coming meetings much interest was shown here in today's earnings statements for July. Great Northern earned $3,142,000 gross against $10,798,000 for July. Great Northern net operating income against only $628,000. For the seven months gross was $50,046,000 against $65,747,000 and net operating income a deficit of $538,000 against last year's surplus of $1,781,000. Northern Pacific shows July gross at $7,777,000 against $9,239,000, gross was $48,304,000 against $60,267,000 with net operating deficit this year of $860,000 against last year's surplus of $5,634,000.

ARMY FLYERS PREPARE FOR BOMBING TESTS

ATHENS SAYS REPORT OF REVERSE IS FALSE

Norfolk, Va., August 30.—Army aviators Langley field today began preparations for extensive bombing tests which will be held off the Virginia capes in September. With the old battleship Alabama as the target, "The maneuverers are determined to demonstrate the value of aerial bombing, the attacks on the former German ship off the capes in July.

The Alabama, which is now at Hampton Roads, is being prepared for her last service to the country—that of forming target for bombs ranging from 200 to 2,000 pounds.

Believing as I do that one may be presented as a candidate for office and remain a gentleman, I have indulged in no personalities. No intelligent, fair-minded business man seeks office by criticism of a competitor; why should there be a different standard when a public service is involved?

Believing as I do that the voters are entitled to know the principles which would govern my conduct as your public servant, I stated publicly, definitely and frankly my position on pertinent issues. Such statement was made before any one else publicly announced his position, and that statement has been generally approved and has been substantially copied.

Having faith as I have in the good sense and fairness of the voters, I have not deemed it necessary to answer silly misrepresentations of my position other than by calling attention to the statement and my well-known and long-continued efforts to get a better system of city government. My faith has been justified by the actions of the Women's League of Voters, the Civic Forum, and the Grand Jury Committee, all of which organizations, although indorsing no candidate, have specifically put my name on their fair lists.

Having been constrained by my conscience and upon the insistence of hundreds of good citizens, having agreed to accept the office of councilman, I called thereto, I confidently rely on our patriotism and good judgment and submit the issue to you.

Respectfully,

Edgar Watkins

New York, August 30.—The stock market today was upwardly biased, the only conspicuous weakness being the local traction and utility specialties, which were further divided reductions or declines more apprehended.

Easier money was evidenced by the success of a $25,000,000 Brazilian bond offering and by the success of $25,000,000 Brazilian bond offerings and by the success of $25,000,000 Brazilian bond offerings.

Among the factors which impeded heavy covering of short contracts was the fact that the railroads obtained mainly to better earnings and that they reported that the probability that leading railroads' systems soon would come into the market for equipment and other supplies.

Representative oils figured most prominently in the more active operations of the afternoon. Mexican Petroleum and affiliated issues rose to 5 1/2 points on intimations that the impending conference between the Mexican government and American concessionaires would result in an adjustment of existing vexatious oil taxes.

Shippings, motors, leathers, to and numerous specialties along the market of the day moved forward in the more comprehensive

TO CHASE JACK

Washington, August 30.—A treaty of peace with Germany which was signed last Thursday afternoon will be sent to the senate by President Harding on September 21, the day that congressional recesses after its thirty-day recess.

It was stated today at the White House.

Prompt ratification of the pact is understood to be hoped for by President Harding. He said that congressional legislative program as outlined at the time last week's recess was taken called for enactment of revenue or tariff legislation immediately upon recess. He said that action on the railroad debt funding bill, several senate leaders expressed the belief that an early place could be found on the program for the treaty.

Members of the foreign relations committee, to which the treaty will be referred upon its submission, were made acquainted with its details last week by Secretary of State Hughes and his associates with the opportunity afforded for study during the recess. It is counted upon that the committee will work for speedy action.

It is believed to have been made by administration officials that it was desired that the senate and Ger-

SMOOT SPONSORS PLAN TO SIMPLIFY TAXES

Washington, August 30.—A new basis of taxation to take the place of the house revenue measure and practically all present tax laws was proposed today by Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, who announced he was preparing a bill embodying the plan which he estimated would yield $3,895,000,000 this year. He added that he would take the question up with the senate finance committee when it begins consideration of revenue questions Thursday.

estimated each would yield annually follow:

Income taxes (maximum rate of 22 per cent), $3,895,000,000.

Ten per cent tax on net corporate profits, $445,000,000.

Tobacco taxes (present rates), $225,000,000.

Estate taxes, $150,000,000.

Manufacturers' sale tax (3 per cent), $1,200,000,000.

Import taxes (tariff), $400,000,000.

While the six sources would produce only $3,285,000,000, Mr. Smoot estimated that the other $610,000,000 would be obtained from collection of unpaid taxes, receipts from war salvage and the old tax on withdrawal of liquor from bonded warehouses. Unpaid taxes, he figured, should add $340,000,000 to this year's revenue, war salvage receipts should be around $200,000,000 and the liquor tax should produce another $75,000,000.

The $3,895,000,000 anticipated as the law's yield will exceed the government commitments at present by $44,700,000, according to Mr. Smoot. The surplus, he said, would be used by the treasury to meet other demands, which might be made upon it.

One of the arguments which Mr. Smoot said could be made in favor of his program was its simplicity.

"Anybody can make out his tax return," if congress adopts his suggestions, he said, adding that it would result in a saving of perhaps $25,000,000 in tax collections and would do away with about two-thirds of the employees in the revenue service.

Chautauqua Threatened.

Americus, Ga., August 30.—(Special.)—It appears now that America's will forego its annual season of chautauqua this year as a result of a disagreement between local guarantors and the Redpath Chautauqua bureau, which is under contract to furnish the attraction.

Frank Lanier, a leading spirit among the guarantors, has demanded that America's ladies who assist in the advance sale of tickets be guaranteed 10 per cent of the profits, which the chautauqua firm declines to do. As a result, Lanier has threatened to withdraw as a guarantor, and it is considered certain that no new guarantors could be secured.

The chautauqua has been an annual event here during many years past, and much regret is expressed at the prospect of losing it.

Labor Would Aid Conference Plan On Unemployed

Atlanta City, August 30.—Organized labor is ready to consider any invitation from the government to participate in a conference with a view of solving the unemployment situation, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, announced today at the closing session of the federation's executive council.

"Such a conference," he declared, "it not to be opposed when the workers of the country are suffering from unemployment and there is no work in sight."

Mr. Gompers declined to state what co-operation organized labor would give such a conference but indicated that it would have the federation's full support.

He said the council today discussed the proposed conference and

THE BODY OF WAR HERO WILL REST IN LAWRENCEVILLE

Lawrenceville, Ga., August 30.—(Special.)—J. P. Hyrd has received official notice that the body of his son, Lieutenant George Harold Hyrd, had arrived at Hoboken on August 29, in transit from France to his home here for interment. Lieutenant Hyrd was a first lieutenant and adjutant of the 32nd infantry, of the 82d division, and was killed in fighting in the Argonne forest just ten days before the armistice was signed.

The interment will be in the family burial ground here and will be in charge of the Decatur post of the American Legion, which was held in his honor. The body was reached Lawrenceville this week, but no definite day has been designated for its arrival.

Tennille School Opening.

Tennille, Ga., August 30.—(Special.)—The Tennille public schools will open September 6, for the year's work. A splendid corps of teachers has been selected, and this year is expected to be one of the best in the school's history.

The faculty includes Superintendent G. G. Mangham, high school; Miss Virginia Stephens, English and French; Miss Eloise Hatfield, science and mathematics; Mrs. W. C. Little, Latin and mathematics; M. B. Edwards, vocational agriculture. The grammar school teachers are Mrs. J. I. Smith, first grade; Miss Louise Brown, second grade; Miss Rosabel Brown, third grade; Mrs. N. M. Jordan, Jr., fourth grade; Miss Christine Carroll, fifth grade; Miss Ruth Chapman, sixth grade; L. J. Bickers, seventh grade; music, Mrs. Roy Smith and Miss Annie Mary Smith. ## EFFICIENCY AND ECONOMY NOW REDUCE PRICE OF ICE

With Exception of the Prices in Three Cities, Atlantic's New Price Is Lowest in United States

Our recent announcement, headed: "What Is a Just Price for Ice?" carried this statement: "Our production and delivery costs are minutely tabulated and compiled each month and whenever these costs recede sufficiently to permit of still lower prices to our customers we shall welcome the occasion and cheerfully make whatever reduction may be consistently possible."

Through the Efficiencies and Economies Effected Both by Large-Scale Production and by the Hearty, Zealous Help of an Organization Every Man of Which Is in Steadfast, Earnest Accord With Our Broad Service Policies, We Now Take a Genuine Pleasure in Announcing a Reduction in the Price of Atlantic Ice.

EFFECTIVE SEPTEMBER 1 OUR PRICE FOR ICE WILL BE 50 CENTS PER HUNDRED POUNDS TO RESIDENCES

This price places the cities that benefit by our reduction conspicuously in the lead on low priced pure ice, and a glance at the prices maintained in a group of cities, typical of the entire country, will show clearly that not only has our price always been just and fair, but that our revised price is pre-eminently so. The following table of prices shows the Atlantic Ice & Coal Corporation's new price as compared with the prices in a typical group of American cities.

HOW LARGE-SCALE PRODUCTION SERVES HUMANITY

There was consternation recently in a big midwestern city. Word went round that there was an alarming shortage of ice. How would food be kept? What would the hospitals do without ice? Ice must be had. Ice meant keeping the laughter in little eyes and the patter in little feet. It meant the reviving draught for tossing sufferers on beds of pain. It meant a refreshing glass of water for tired Mothers. It meant the ready, steady, imperatively necessary maintenance of the city's very vitality.

Without diverting one cake from the thousands of tons needed to cool-travel Georgia's enormous peach crop to the markets that sent back the streams of gold that brought new life to Georgia's finances—without diverting one pound from the refrigerators of those who daily depend on us for the crystal block that holds the sweetness, healthfulness and safety in their foods, we shipped daily vast stores of ice to that troubled city, averting untold distress and maintaining for its people their needed supply of ice until the resumption of their own local supply.

Their dire necessity was large-scale production's opportunity. Millions of dollars leaping to enlistment in humanity's service, functioning, perhaps, to keep some poor family, in that far-away city, supplied with the daily piece of ice needed to guard the milk of a little tot, the life and light of a workingman's cottage.

Service is not a lifeless by-word in our plants, but the vivid, actuating spirit of our entire organization.

High thanks are due and hereby rendered to every patron who has helped us to make this a business in which millions of dollars are harnessed to the service of humanity.
